Growing up wasn't all rainbows and butterflies for me, it consisted of heart transplants and cancer.

When I was born, my left ventricle was smaller than my right causing an irregular heartbeat, and I had to get a heart transplant at the age of two. Then, at the age of seven, I was diagnosed with a rare cancer named b-cell lymphoma, and was cured by my eighth birthday. By the time I was eleven, I had thought that the bad part was over—but it wasn't. I was surprised to discover that I had coronary artery disease in my right major artery and, needed a second heart transplant.

Although what I've been through wasn't easy, it has changed who I am today, as well as my family. Now that I am finally a young woman, and old enough to realize exactly what I've been through, I want to give back to the people who helped me through it and touched my life in so many ways.

Though it hasn't been a "smooth" ride for me, I hope that I can help to make it so for other kids. The Kelly Marie Moulton Foundation will benefit kids like me and their families, like mine, who got me here today.

On behalf of my family, thanks so much for your support!
